

CHACONAS ROLLS BIG DUCKPIN SET

Gandil's Bowler Equals Season's Record of 423 in Arcade League Match.

TEAM GETS 1,758 TOTAL

Create New Mark for Circuit, With Games of 597, 560, and 601.

Nick Chaconas, of the Gandil team, in the Arcade League, tied the season's record for a duckpin set last night, when he bumped the pins for a 423 total against the New York Life Insurance quint.

Major Robb, of the St. John's team, in the Masonic League, also boasts a mark of 423, made a month ago on the night following that on which Harry Kraus, of the District League Royals, rolled 422.

Bowlers are divided in opinion as to whether the 423 mark is a record for the District for all time. Charley Wright knocked down 428 pins with the Gandil team during the season before last, using the 5 1/2-inch ball against the Baltimore duckpin, but because of the big sphere many are prejudiced against the performance.

Doubt As To Merits.

With the new A. C. B. A. game in operation, scores have become generally higher than those prevailing with the 5 1/2-inch ball. This raises a question as to the relative merits of the two sets—423 and 428.

Chaconas' team rolled the largest set total in the history of the Arcade League, totalling 1,758. This ranks among the best of the season. The team's scores were 597, 560 and 601. Nick having strings of 143, 135 and 145. He is leader of the league in average, and is considered one of the finest bowlers in the city. Chaconas also is a member of the Grand Central team in the District and National Capital Leagues, and the Solomon quint in the Masonic.

Tenpiners Do Well.

With interest at height in the Washington City Tenpin League because of the close pennant race, the big pin rollers are keeping in fine fettle for the matches with a telling effect on scores. Games of more than 1,000 are becoming frequent occurrences. Acme rolled 1,001 against the Commissioners last night, and followed it with 926 and 928, winning all games easily, despite the Commissioners' handicap of fifty-nine pins. Burdine was the best performer.

TO SPEND $200,000 FOR PARADE SEATS

Washingtonians and Visitors Will Pay Big Sum to Watch Procession March 5.

Washingtonians and visitors will spend almost $200,000 to sit down while watching the inaugural parade March 5, according to an estimate made today. From one end of the line of march to the other, stands are being erected, windows are being cleaned up and decorated, and old chairs and stools are being put in order for the big day.

Stands have been erected or are being erected for more than 47,000 people. Windows have been placed for rent which will hold more than 13,000 people. These seats in stand and in window will sell for an average of about $3.50 each.

More than 2,000,000 feet of lumber has been purchased from Washington lumber yards for the erection of the stands which will be used for only a few hours.

15,000 Flags To Be Used.
About 15,000 flags will be used to decorate the stands and the buildings along the line of march. Not only flags but bunting from the smallest piece carried by the young boy, to the large stretcher hanging across the front of a building, will be used.

Only a few of the stands being erected are to be opened to the public. Enough seats for 20,000 people have been placed on sale. The remainder of the seats have been reserved for department clerks, Government officials, and invited guests.

The large stand across the Avenue from the White House will seat 6,500 people. Seats are being sold for $3.50. The stand, which is 576 feet long and fifty feet wide, is being erected by contract, but the seats are on sale by Col. J. N. Harper, as the head of the inaugural committee.

None of the seats at the White House stand will be for sale, but will be used for the President and his party, special guests, and members of the press. The stand, which is 300 feet long, will seat 2,000 people.

The employees of the Department of Justice have erected a stand at the corner of Madison place and Pennsylvania avenue, to seat 2,400 people. None of the seats are for sale. The stand, which is being erected at a cost of about $6,000, is sixty feet wide and 200 feet long.

More than 10,000 people can be seated on the stands being erected by the employees of the Treasury Department. Stands are being erected in front, on the side, and in the rear of the Treasury. Tickets have been sold to the employees at prices ranging from $1 to $2.50.

War Department Stand.
The stand being erected by the War Department will seat 3,300 people, at prices ranging from $4 to $6 per seat. The stand, which is being built by R. P. Whitty & Co., is six feet wide and 240 feet long, built at a cost of $7,300.

More than 7,500 feet of lumber are being used in the small stand in front of the Postoffice Department. The stand, which is only eighteen feet wide and thirty-five feet long, will seat 500 people at $2 a seat. No one but employees will be allowed on the stand. It is being erected at a cost of $630.

The stand in front of the District Building is being erected by the District employees for their own use at a cost of $1,200. It is fifty feet long and fifty feet wide, and will seat 900 people at a cost of $1.50 for each person. The lumber will be sold to the District of Columbia for use in various departmental activities.

A large stand being erected at Seventh and Pennsylvania avenue, by Thomas F. Melton & Co., will seat about 6,000 people. This stand is open to the public at a price of $3 to $4 per seat. Should the demand for seats be large enough, Mr. Melton will erect another stand near the Botanic Garden, but nothing has been done regarding this latter stand, as yet.

In all probability other stands will be erected a few days before the 5th of March. Speculators are holding back awaiting the demand for seats, which is sure to come about the first of March. Should the requests for seats be numerous enough, more stands for the public will be erected along the lower part of Pennsylvania avenue.

The large stand at the Capitol, which is for the use of the Senators and Congressmen and their friends and guests, will seat more than 10,000 people. The expenses incident to the erection of this stand are being paid out of the $35,000 appropriated by Congress to defray the government's expenses in the inauguration. The stand is being especially well built and is more decorative than most of the others.

The most stately of the stands will be that in front of the White House, which will extend from Madison place to Jackson place. It will be the Court of Honor.

The selection of a design for the Court of Honor was intrusted to a committee who prepared a program for a competition, into which thirty-five Washington architects were invited to enter. The design submitted by C. P. Adams was accepted. The sketches show a classical colonnade extending the length of the court, each column carrying an urn of flowers and a statue, the columns being relieved at intervals by pylons bearing the American flag, and the whole connected by festoons of laurel. At the entrances, the pylons are elaborate and each is surrounded by a tripod bearing a cluster of lights. The intersections of Madison place and Jackson place with the court are marked by pavilions roofed with domes, through the arches of which a passage for vehicles is provided. Immediately in front of the White House, on the south side of the street, a portico with huge columns will mark the center of the President's reviewing stand.

The colors of the court will be white and green. No other colors will be used during the entire inaugural ceremonies except those of the American flag.

DANIEL TO RETIRE FROM SCHOOL BODY

Member of Board of Education Notifies Court He Does Not Desire Reappointment.

Ernest H. Daniel, member of the Board of Education for more than six years, and vice president of that body since May 7, 1913, has written to the justices of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia that he does not desire his name to be considered for reappointment next June, when his present term expires.

Mr. Daniel, formerly of the firm of Willigie, Gibbs & Daniels, real estate dealers, and now affiliated with Golden & Co., commission merchants, has been prominent in school affairs in Washington since he was appointed to fill an unexpired term on the Board of Education, December 21, 1910.

He succeeded W. V. Cox, who resigned as a member and as president of the board.

Schools' Business Man.
Mr. Daniel was reappointed July 1, 1911, and again on July 1, 1914. He has been especially active in the business department of the board's activities, and in the development of the high school cadet regiments. He is now chairman of the committee on sites, buildings, repairs, and janitors, and of the committee on military affairs and athletics.

In both positions he has done constructive work. Mr. Daniel was a candidate for the presidency of the board upon its reorganization last July, when Henry P. Blair, then president, retired. He was defeated by the Rev. Dr. John Van Schaick, Jr. by one vote.

Champion of "Frats."
As a champion of high school fraternities and sororities, he was a prominent figure in the recent agitation which resulted in the abolition of the secret societies in the schools. Mr. Daniel strongly urged that they be retained until other organizations were found to replace them.

Two other members go off the board next June 30. These are William T. Gallier and Mrs. Coralie F. Cook.

DISHES CHEMICALLY PURE
Hotel's Cleaning Apparatus Sterilizes and Washes Tableware.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Chemically pure dishes are the latest. A local hotel has just installed an apparatus whereby dirty dishes, put in at one end, come out the other, not only clean, but sterilized. They know they are chemically pure, it is announced, because a bacteriologist looks 'em over afterwards.
